Mountains

Mountain experiences may affect us in many different ways. Probably most experiences are wonderful and give us memories that last a long time – the clear air, the magnificent views, a sense of achievement after a climb, or perhaps even a sense of solitude. On the other hand, it may be an experience of terror and dread. A time when unexpectedly there has been a change in the weather and suddenly we are enveloped in mist, we become disorientated, lost and panic ensues.

Both of the passages set for today (Exodus 24: 12 – 18; Matthew 17: 1 – 9) tell about mountain experiences – very special experiences, where people met with God. The Old Testament passage tells us that Moses, for a second time, is called by God to meet with Him on Mount Sinai, where we are told the glory of the Lord settled. The New Testament tells of an occasion when Jesus took three of His disciples up a mountain (probably Mount Hermon) where, again, the glory of the Lord was seen in Jesus when “His face shone like the sun and His clothes became white as the light”. These were spectacular; however, although mountain experiences are described frequently in the Bible, most of them are not so dramatic as these two occasions. Most commonly in the Gospels we are told that the mountains were the places where Jesus taught the people, spent time with His disciples or, most importantly, went in solitude to pray - to be alone with His Father. In our lives we have, no doubt, enjoyed and remember spectacular “Mountain-top experiences” when we have been uplifted at Christian festivals etc. But we also need to escape to our own quiet “mountain” to be alone with God. That “mountain” maybe a climb up the stairs to our bedroom, a quiet spot downstairs, alone at the kitchen sink, or a quiet place at work..... Let’s enjoy the spectacular mountain experiences but also be sure to follow Jesus’ example of finding that quiet “mountain” place where we can be alone with God.

Children's Corner

As you know Carol Preston recently joined us as our part-time Children and Families' Worker, a sign that we recognise how important it is to invest in this work. We also want to make our Sunday services a consistently welcoming experience for families and our Children's Corner is an important part of that, where we provide a small activity and story for any children at the 10.30 services. Carol is here for the 2nd and 4th Sundays each month, but we need a few more people willing to cover the 1st and 3rd Sundays. This is especially important as Ali and Rod Doulton will soon be moving away. Carol will prepare all the necessary material, so there's no need to worry about that. Please speak to Carol Preston or Catherine McBride for more information.
